Statement of Safety and Efficacy:

These products are safe and effective as lubricants with incidental food contact. Their components are listed in 21 CFR § 178.3570 or under appropriate food additive regulations.

Statement of Compliance:

These products are acceptable as a lubricant intended for incidental food contact provided usage complies with CFR § 178.3570. Based on review by Hortense S. Macon, Food and Drug Administration, Washington, DC and U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

Limits of Use and Special Directions:

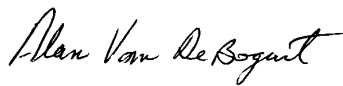

Usage should be limited to the amount necessary to achieve the desired technical effect.

Lubricants should be applied to food contact equipment that requires lubrication in a manner that does not contaminate food-contact surfaces.

Lubricants should be identified, stored, and used in a manner that protects against contamination of food, food-contact surfaces, or food-packaging materials to prevent adulterating or deleteriously affecting meat, poultry, or egg products.

Except as required for an operating process, should not be used while foods or food contact packaging materials are exposed.

Storage containers should be clearly marked and individually identified with the product name on the label.
